Transitioning to Online Instruction

Math 135–102

Course Title: Mathematics for Business

Instructor: Professor P. Ward

Date: March 16, 2020

While NJIT is transitioned to online instruction during the Covid-19 outbreak, all policies detailed in the syllabus will remain in effect except those changes listed below or instituted by the Department of Mathematical Sciences or the University. In particular, the NJIT Academic Integrity Code continues to apply.

Students who lack the technology needed to participate in online learning should contact the Dean of Students office as soon as possible.

All lecture and coursework will be conducted through the Canvas LMS. Homework will continue to be assigned on MyMathLab.com weekly.

Quizzes and exams will be conducted on MyMathLab.com and/or through Canvas using appropriate technology (i.e. Respondus Lockdown Browser and/or ProctorU or similar).

The second midterm exam date will be changed to April 9 to account for the cancelled class March 12.

Weekly attendance will be recorded by submission of online work.
